

CONTENTS

List of Tables	v
List of Figures	vi
I.1 Company description and Current situation.....	1
I.2 Objectives	2
II. Theoretical and Conceptual Frameworks	3
II.1 The concept of Omni-Channel Retail	3
II.2 Field Experiments, Confounders, Instrumental Variables, and Regressions.....	3
II.3 Hawthorne Effect	4
III. Methodology	5
III.1 Reports Design.....	5
III.2 Experimental Design.....	5
III.3 Assessments	7
III.3.1 Incremental Revenue	7
III.3.2 Customer’s perception	7
III.3.3 Salespersons perception	8
IV. Results.....	9
IV.1 Omni-Channel presence	9
IV.2 Quantitative results on revenue	10
IV.2.1 Department Level	11
IV.2.2 Sales worker Level	14
IV.3 Qualitative results on Sales workers and Customers	16
IV.3.1 Surveys	16
IV.3.2 Focus Group.....	21
V. Discussion, Recommendations and Future Work.....	22
VI. Conclusions.....	23
VII. Bibliography.....	24
VIII. Appendix	25
VIII.1 Reports	25
VIII.2 Sales workers classification algorithm	26

LIST OF TABLES

Table 1: Experimental design schedule. (T) True treatment; (F) False treatment; (C) Control..... 6

Table 2: Focus Group Topics and Questions 8

Table 3: Confusion matrix of the Algorithmic department association..... 10

Table 4: Estimated OLS ATE in Departments 12

Table 5: LASSO ATE in Departments..... 12

Table 6: Estimated OLS IV LATE in Departments 13

Table 7: LASSO ATE of the true treatment over the false treatment in Departments 14

Table 8: Estimated OLS ATE in Sales workers..... 15

Table 9: LASSO ATE estimates of the true treatment over the false treatment in Sales workers .. 16

Table 10: Customer's perception of the recommendation by treatment using Mann-Whitney-Wilcoxon (MWW) and t test 20

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1: Conceptualization of the different flows of information to marketing action 2

Figure 2: Percentage of customers researching online and shopping offline by department 9

Figure 3: Reasons to Research offline and shopping online 10

Figure 4: Histogram of OLS ATE in Departments for several specifications 12

Figure 5: Self-declared level of use..... 13

Figure 6: Histogram of OLS IV LATE in Departments for several specifications 13

Figure 7: OLS ATE estimates of the true treatment over the false treatment in departments. None significant 14

Figure 8: Histogram of OLS ATE in Sales workers for several specifications 15

Figure 9: OLS ATE estimates of the true treatment over the false treatment in Sales workers. None significant 16

Figure 10: Age (Left) and Time in the company (Right) for the sales workers in the 4 stores 17

Figure 11: Usage and Compliance over the weeks 17

Figure 12: Number of customers with information divided by number of customers served over the weeks..... 18

Figure 13: Self-reported Quality of recommendations (1), Influence on product choice (2), and Influence over conversion (3) by Treatment and Week..... 18

Figure 14: Customer's Observed age segment 19

Figure 15: Recommendation Funnel declared by customers 19

Figure 16: Histogram of answers on the customers survey about the quality of the recommendation 20

Figure 17: Overall Customer’s Satisfaction by department (with number of responses) 21