

Dynamics of charged bubbles in general relativity and models of particles

Lopez, Carlos A.

The dynamics of extended models of charged particles considered as sources of the Reissner-Nordström geometry is analyzed. They consist of spherical bubbles with electric charge and surface tension. Equations of motion for each model are derived showing the existence of stable equilibrium configurations with bubble sizes of the order of the classical radius of the particle.

© 1988 The American Physical Society.