

DEAD-box RNA helicase DDX3 connects CRM1-dependent nuclear export and translation of the HIV-1 unspliced mRNA through its N-terminal domain.

Alvaro Fröhlich^{1§}, Bárbara Rojas-Araya^{1§}, Camila Pereira-Montecinos¹, Alessandra Dellarossa¹, Daniela Toro-Ascuy¹, Yara Prades-Pérez¹, Francisco García-de-Gracia¹, Andrea Garcés-Alday¹, Paulina S. Rubilar^{2,3,4}, Fernando Valiente-Echeverría¹, Théophile Ohlmann^{2,3,4} and Ricardo Soto-Rifo^{1*}

¹ Molecular and Cellular Virology Laboratory, Virology Program, Institute of Biomedical Sciences, Faculty of Medicine, Universidad de Chile, Independencia 834100, Santiago, Chile

² CIRI, International Center for Infectology Research, Université de Lyon, Lyon, France.

³ Inserm, U1111, Lyon, France.

⁴ Ecole Normale Supérieure de Lyon, Lyon, France.

* To whom correspondence should be addressed:

Ricardo Soto-Rifo: Tel: (56) 2 978 68 69; Fax: (56) 2 978 61 24;

Email: rsotorifo@med.uchile.cl

§ These authors should be considered as joint first authors.

Keywords: HIV-1/DDX3/Unspliced mRNA/CRM1/Nuclear export/Translation/Intrinsic disorder