

Measles in Chile: a dangerous upsurge Sarampión en Chile: una peligrosa onda.

Canals,

The monthly incidence of measles in Chile from 1964 to 1991 was analyzed using time series and Fourier's analysis. Epidemic levels are reached at periods of approximately 4 years. Accordingly, a new epidemic may be expected in mid 1992, with a total of approximately 40,000 cases.